Mistake Leads to the Arrest of a Honolulu Girl

Miss M. Williams Has Unpleasant Experience When She Reaches Coast on Steamer Sierra.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—(Associated Press by Federal Wire)—Miss M. Williams, a well-known Honolulu young woman, was unintentionally subjected to considerable embarrassment aboard the steamer Sierra when it reached here from the island yesterday. She was taken into custody by San Francisco detectives upon called instructions from Judge Whitney of Honolulu to arrest Miss May Fraser.

The officers believed Miss Williams was traveling under an assumed name, and it was only after she had thoroughly established her identity through the captain of the vessel and other friends aboard the ship that she was released. She took the adventure good-naturedly, after the officers had apologized for their mistake. Miss Fraser was not found aboard the steamer.

Deputy Sheriff Arch stated last night that a Portuguese woman reported at the police station during the early part of this week that her daughter had been seized to leave Honolulu on the steamer Sierra by a strange woman, and the girl was under age. The case was reported to Judge Whitney of the juvenile court.

The Miss Williams referred to in the dispatch is the daughter of J. J. Williams of Honolulu and is on a vacation trip to California.

Accused Army Officer Before Courtmartial Says He Stole to Protect Friends

SAN FRANCISCO, June 13.—(Associated Press by Federal Wire)—Captain Joseph R. Griffiths on trial before a courtmartial at the Presidio here for appropriating government funds to aid him in speculations in timber lands, took the stand in his own behalf yesterday. He admitted taking the government fund, claiming that his sole purpose was to protect his friends who had invested with him from ruin. This money, he claimed, was all spent in his timber enterprises.

It was shown by the depositions introduced at the trial that Griffiths had dealings with the Holbrook Timber Company, which asked upon him to pay $500,000 for some timber lands.

Griffiths Unable to Pay. He was unable to meet the terms of the agreement, which called for a first payment of $50,000. One of the agents of the company, it is understood, was E. B. McFarland, who was said to manage the general office at Goshute, Oregon.

Griffiths, after his inability to make the payment on the first deal, quarreled with McFarland. He then organized another company called the Colonial Timber and Land Company, and requested his first payment of $75,000 on that, to be liquidated in January of 1914.

He could not meet this payment when the date arrived and got an extension until March. In March he could not make the payment in full without, it is stated, taking government funds.

Accounts Right in January. His accounts, which were regularly audited, showed claims when inspected in January by Lieutenant Colonel Frederick Day of the Western Department. An effort will be made to show that he borrowed the capital in order to have his accounts straight.

The complete court martial board was convened at the meeting to take depositions yesterday. General Winter last night stated that the board would probably find itself in possession of sufficient data to hear the case next Thursday. While the depositions are supposed to go to Washington and a return made on them before the court martial can proceed, the board itself passes on the depositions and may meet at the call of its president, General Winter, on the 21st.

SMALL BONDS FAVORED BY GOVERNOR

Chief Executive Would Give Everyone in Hawaii an Opportunity to Invest in Territorial Securities — New Loan Will Amount to $1,430,000.

(From Saturday Advertiser.) I believe that when the Territory has recourse to the law giving it authority to borrow money for public improvements, said Governor Pinkham yesterday, "the bonds to secure the loan should be made in denominations that will give investors of limited means an opportunity to take them up."

"Heretofore all territorial loans have been of the $1000 denomination. The loan which will be sought soon will be made up of $500,000, of 2000 bonds, each of $100, and 400 bonds of $500, respectively, the balance to be of the $1000 denomination. In this manner many island people will be able to invest their savings."

The Governor has decided that $747,970.79 shall be borrowed as soon as presidential authority to do so shall have been secured. This amount shall be devoted, $653,589 for wharves and harbors, $74,000 for the new territorial prison, and for county purposes $94,381.79 will be borrowed, making the total issue for prompt use $747,970.79. Deferred territorial items amount to $174,500 and deferred county items to $241,497.26. Items appropriated and not needed, $193,39.

Governor Pinkham's views on the loan question are fully set out in a letter he wrote to Territorial Treasurer D. L. Conkling yesterday, and which is as follows:

Governor's Letter. Executive Chamber Honolulu, Hawaii, June 12, 1914. Hon. D. L. Conkling, Treasurer of the Territory of Hawaii, Honolulu, T. H. Sir:—In making up your application to me for the presidential approval of the territorial loans authorized by the legislature, I suggest and desire you to specify denominations as follows:

$100 denomination	300,000
500 "	200,000
1000 "	930,000
Total	$1,430,000

Such issues will enable persons, particularly citizens of the Territory, to invest in the soundest and most conservative securities offering in the Territory and one eagerly sought on the mainland. This opportunity has heretofore been closed to the small investor, as the $1000 denomination only has been issued.

The application will cover the full amount of the bonds authorized yet unissued.

INCOME TAX FALLS BELOW ESTIMATE

Government Will Have Margin of Only $30,000,000 Over Running Expenses For Year.

WASHINGTON, June 13.—(Associated Press by Federal Wire)—There will be in the neighborhood of thirty million dollars more in the treasury at the end of the present fiscal year than will be required to operate the government.

This condition was made known here yesterday with an announcement by Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo that the estimated income for the fiscal year will exceed the ordinary expenses of the government by about thirty million dollars.

The income tax returns, which were estimated to be a source of much income, it is stated, will fall far below anticipation. However, the customs revenue will be twenty-one million dollars more than estimated.

COLLECTOR SHARP NOW IN COMPLETE CHARGE

There were no developments yesterday as a result of the summary dismissal of E. R. Stackable, former collector of the port. With Raymer Sharp in full charge of affairs in this important position, the routine work at the custom house progressed as though nothing had happened.

The subordinates claim they are overworked and that the force is not sufficiently large to handle the growing needs of this port. The desire was freely expressed yesterday by the outside men that Raymer Sharp be appointed to the position of collector permanently, as he fully approves the needs of the outside force and would no doubt see to it that improvements were made in the different departments.

Mr. Stackable was engaged yesterday in removing his personal effects from the office and attending to detail matters with Mr. Sharp. He stated that no further news had come from the department, but that a number of cables and wireless messages had been sent by his friends to the treasury department protesting against his dismissal. What weight these protests would have he stated that he did not know, but he had no intention of leaving the Territory just yet and would be on hand if anything happened.

Popular Major, Formerly in Command at Fort Ruger, Secures Choice Detail on Mainland

Maj. E. J. Timberlake, Coast Artillery Corps, until three months ago the commanding officer at Fort Ruger, has been detailed to fill a vacancy in the Quartermaster's Corps by recent war department orders. The orders further direct that, on the expiration of his present leave of absence, he proceed to West Point, reporting to the superintendent of the Military Academy as quartermaster and in charge of construction of new buildings and other improvements at that station.

Major Timberlake's original orders directed him to proceed to the States and assume command of Fort H. G. Wright, New York. The detail as quartermaster at West Point is regarded in the Army as one of the choicest details that an officer of the Quartermaster's Corps can draw.

For several years past the quartermaster at the Military Academy has been an officer of the grade of lieutenant colonel.

PICNIC ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWD

On Thursday last the annual picnic of the Portuguese Evangelical Church Sunday School was held at Pearl City, says O. Luso, the Portuguese weekly in to day's issue. About 325 people took part in this pleasing excursion, among them being Sunday School children, parents and friends.

The weather was beautiful, and athletic games and a sumptuous lunch prepared beforehand by the committees appointed for this purpose, contributed toward giving the excursionists a most agreeable outing.

Honolulu Water and Sewer Works

Works	210,894.09
Grand Total	$1,433,050.37

The Honolulu Water and Sewer Works, having passed from the possession of the Territory, a loan of $210,894.09 from the Territory to the County would be of doubtful legality without previous legislative action.

It is of the opinion that the authority sought to borrow $1,430,000, is sufficient to cover the intent of the legislature. Respectfully, (Sgd.) L. E. PINKHAM, Governor of Hawaii.

KAUAI HAS BEST MARKSMEN IN WORLD

Major-General Carter Pays High Tribute to Marksmanship of Sixty-eighth and 143d Companies, Coast Artillery, in Presenting Them with Knox Trophy Before Regiment and Large Crowd in Capitol Grounds.

(From Saturday Advertiser.) Martial music, prim officers, soldiers tramping off at rigid attention, noted dignitaries, bevy of handsomely groomed women, throngs of civilians, all in a military atmosphere—this was the setting given yesterday morning to an inspiring ceremony at the Capitol grounds when Maj. Gen. William H. Carter, commander of the Hawaiian Department, presented to the Sixty-eighth and One Hundred and Forty-third Companies of the Coast Artillery, stationed at Fort Kamehameha, the Knox trophy for greatest efficiency in the Coast Artillery arm of the United States Army.

The presentation of the trophy by General Carter was made on behalf of the Sons of the Revolution of Massachusetts, the donors of the massive and elaborate bronze tablet.

Gloomy Prophecies of Agitators Have Lost Their Force, Says Bradstreet's Journal.

Bradstreet's Journal of May 30 notes a falling off of bank clearings for the week of about ten per cent from the preceding week, out a gain of 4.5 per cent over the same week last year and a gain of 20 per cent over 1912.

Favorable weather helped the retail and jobbing trade in wearing apparel and cotton goods. Higher prices for sugar, wool and wheat were due to urgent demands.

Cereal Crops Promising.

Cereal crops are reported in good shape and a large fruit crop is in sight. It is too wet for cotton in Texas and too dry for tobacco in Tennessee and Kentucky, and for general crops in the Southeast. The largest business in railroad history is predicted for next autumn. Wheat exports during May were the second largest for the year.

Agitators Silenced.

"Illness has diminished in a marked degree as compared with the winter months, but there is considerable room for additional improvement. In some of the leading industries some time while waiting for betterment to come in the rule. However, less loud talk is heard from agitators, who made the situation of last winter seem to be worse than it actually was, and just now the absence of these harangues tends to develop the belief that employment is better than it really is. What over the change for the better, it is largely due to seasonal conditions, precisely as the illnesses of the winter months was seasonal, though considerably in an opposite direction and more noteworthy in the degree of dullness than in years of smooth, sustained industrial operations. But with the advent of higher temperatures, out-of-door work has improved, while from the farming regions of the southwest come urgent calls for help to garner big crops."

Foreigners Answer Call.

"Perhaps foreign born laborers, many of whom originally were permanent farm workers, are answering the call. If such is the case a good deal of the surplus common labor available throughout industrial districts, particularly in the iron, steel and coke making centers, will be temporarily absorbed by industry. Thus the movement, obviously a healthy one, will tend to keep an overworked market from being liquidated through the channels of foreign wages. But if wages remain at the steady levels it is probable that those now employed in manufacturing will render more efficient service, the knowledge that there are more seekers than jobs being of itself remarkably influential in adding to one's efficiency. Of course there is a numerous class that, owing to domestic ties, cannot very well migrate to the farms, and there still is another class who will not go, there being the kind that prefer the still shadows than hard work in sun-focused fields."

1913 has been awarded to two companies of these coast defenses, the 143d, Captain Henry J. Hatch, Coast Artillery Corps, commanding, and the 68th, Captain George A. Taylor, Coast Artillery Corps, commanding.

The trophy is the gift of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution in the commonwealth of Massachusetts. It is awarded annually for highest efficiency in target practice without regard to caliber of guns or type of ammunition, and it becomes the permanent property of the winner.

Regiment Is Reviewed.

After the address of General Carter the entire regiment passed in general review before the department commander, marching in line of platoons and numbering about seven hundred men, led by the Second Infantry band. Though coast defense forces and marching in handpiece of trees and other obstacles the regiment made a splendid showing as infantrymen.

Prior to the address of General Carter, Captain F. W. Hinkle, adjutant, published the following general order to the regiment:

"Headquarters Coast Defenses of Oahu, Fort Ruger, H. T., May 1, 1914.

"General Orders, No. 5.

"The coast defense commander takes pride and pleasure in announcing to the command that the Knox trophy for highest efficiency in coast artillery target practice for the year

Mother Rains When She Wins Fight For Son

Mrs. Terys Roberts Loses Consciousness When Judge Whitney Decides Bitter Legal Battle for Child in Her Favor.

(From Saturday Advertiser.) Mrs. Terys Roberts was yesterday appointed by Judge William L. Whitney as guardian of her little son, John Edward Roberts Jr., Attorney Joseph Lightfoot appearing for the petitioner. Neither Roberts nor his attorney, Emil C. Peters, were in court at the time.

While Judge Whitney was rendering his decision Mrs. Roberts fell into a serious fainting fit, it requiring about an hour to bring the little woman to. She was nervous throughout the hearing and the fainting spell is said to have been induced through her hysterical condition.

Miss Agnes Maynard, the probation officer, worked over the unconscious woman for a considerable time before Mrs. Roberts regained consciousness. Mrs. Roberts has been hospitalized on the frequent visits she has made recently to the courts by women friends who is said to be a Christian scientist and who yesterday, it is said, refused the administration of medicine to the stricken woman.

Mary Castle Trust Donation of the Old Kawaiahae Seminary Site in Heart of Honolulu Is Accepted by the Hawaiian Board of Missions.

(From Saturday Advertiser.) The Mary Castle Trust donation of the old Kawaiahae Seminary site to the Hawaiian Board of Missions was accepted by that organization yesterday.

This property has a frontage of 150 feet on King street and extends through to Hotel street. It is one of the most valuable holdings in that part of the city. It is estimated to be worth about $100,000.

The Hawaiian Board of Missions is really an outgrowth from the early missionary organization formed by the missionary fathers and mothers. The city is considering the erection of a memorial of the one hundredth anniversary of the coming of the early Christian missionary families to Hawaii, and it has been decided to erect a handsome home for the Hawaiian Board, in place of the old building which was erected following the alternative plan which had been suggested, that of erecting a bronze memorial statue in commemoration of the event.

Rev. William B. Olcott stated yesterday that the centenary celebration in 1921 will be an elaborate affair, in which all of the Christian congregations of the Territory will unite. Delegates will be sent here from the New England Mother Churches and from all of the Pacific territory through which the influence of the Hawaiian missionary bodies has radiated for a hundred years.

This Hawaiian missionary centennial of 1921 will be an international event, and the Hawaiian Board of Missions is now engaged in having an appropriate inauguration in which to receive and entertain their concourse of visitors.
